Expressions of interest to serve as Chairperson and/or Members of the Governing Body of Technological University of the Shannon: Midlands Midwest

1. Positions Available

The Minister of Further and Higher Education, Research, Innovation and Science is seeking expressions of interest from suitably qualified candidates for consideration for nomination as Chairperson and/or ordinary members as Ministerial appointees to the Governing Body of Technological University of the Shannon: Midlands Midwest (TUS: Midlands Midwest).

2. About Technological University of the Shannon: Midlands Midwest

The new Technological University of the Shannon: Midlands Midwest will be established by Ministerial order subject to Oireachtas approval later this year when Athlone IT and Limerick IT are simultaneously legislatively dissolved. Providing higher educational programmes across all levels of the National Framework of Qualifications from apprenticeships to doctoral level qualifications across 6 campuses, the new TU will play a pivotal role in the strategic development of the Midlands and Midwest regions and in so doing, will ensure a global outlook and a civic centric value system. The new TU will anchor the development of the areas stretching from Westmeath/Roscommon to Limerick, Clare and Tipperary, touching on almost half the counties in the country. It will be anchored regionally while participating fully on both the national and international stages.

The new technological university is of significant scale with 13,749 students enrolled in 2019/20, and 1,276 staff across its six campuses. The new TU provides a wide portfolio of programmes in areas such as science, engineering, health, business, hospitality, social sciences, informatics, teacher education, and art and design. The establishment of this new technological university in Ireland's Midlands and Midwest regions will have very significant educational, social, civic, geographical, and economic value impact. The strength of the university and its commitment to regional balance is affirmed by its participation in the Regional University Network – European University (RUN-EU), part of the European Universities Initiative supported by the European Commission and which will enable the consortium to have greater influence and impact at regional, national and international levels.

Building on such success and on increased capacity, priority actions for the new TU include:-

- Increasing access and diversifying the student population.
- Delivering digital capacity plans to enhance the student experience.
- Enhancing teaching and learning of technical and professional skills that reflect the needs of industry and ensure student success.
- Enhancing stakeholder engagement and increasing our impact in our regions.
- Increasing RDI capacity in areas that have a clear economic and social impact.
- Excellence in all areas of operation and governance

The new TU will be the first cross-regional university in Ireland and will ensure growth in education provision and enhanced research opportunities, as well as dynamic community and industry engagement across the region. Through its support for industry and communities, the new TU will make its regions more attractive for indigenous SMEs and FDI investment by linking to opportunities in knowledge creation and innovation. This in turn will contribute to the development of viable and vibrant communities that can offer an economically and socially desirable regional counterbalance to the development of Dublin. With its urban hubs and regional campuses, the new TU can provide a key strategic corridor between rural communities, towns and cities. Such objectives are in line with Project Ireland 2040, the government's long-term strategy to make Ireland a better country for all its people. The TU presents an opportunity to enhance, accelerate and amplify the ambition to contribute to the sustainable development of the regions it serves reflected through teaching and learning excellence, research, development, innovation and engagement activities.

3. Legislative/Governance Provision for Technological Universities

3.1 Governing Body Legislation:

Governing bodies of higher education institutions, such as Technological Universities, have statutory roles and the institutions which they govern have high levels of autonomy which makes the role of the Governing Body even more important in terms of governance and accountability.

The following legislative provisions apply to the appointment of ordinary members to Governing Bodies of Technological Universities:

- Section 12 (1) of the Technological Universities Act 2018, states that “A governing body, where the technological university concerned was established by an order under section 36 on an application by not more than 3 applicant institutes, shall have not fewer than 14 and not more than 22 members, of which includes under paragraph (b) a chairperson (in this section and Schedule 1 referred to as the “chairperson”) who shall be an external member, appointed by the governing body, 3 external members nominated by the Minister.

3.2 First Governing Body of a Technological University

As provided for in Section 55 (2) of the Technological Universities Act 2018, the first Governing Body of a Technological University will comprise a Chairperson, two external members and one external member nominated in accordance with its or their own procedures by the education and training board or boards in whose education and training board area or areas the campuses of the technological university are situated, appointed by the Minister.

Under Section 55 (3) of the Act, the first Governing Body of a Technological University is responsible for the establishment of procedures for conducting elections and appointing members to the Governing Body under Section 12 (1)(h), as referred to above, and to conduct those elections and make such appointments.

3.3 Functions of a Governing Body for a Technological University:

Under Section 9 of the Technological Universities Act 2018, a technological university shall have a governing body to perform the functions of the technological university outlined under this Act, and as outlined below:

- (a) provide teaching and facilitate learning
- (b) provide programmes of education and training that reflect the needs of individuals, business, enterprise, the professions, the community, local interests and other stakeholders in the region in which the campuses of the technological university are located and facilitate learning by flexible means,
- (c) provide for the broad education, intellectual and personal development of students, for the purpose of enabling them, as graduates, to excel in their chosen careers and to contribute responsibly to social, civic and economic life in innovative and adaptable ways,
- (d) provide opportunities for staff and students,

- (e) collaborate with institutions that provide higher education inside and outside the State, including on joint research projects and provision of programmes of education and training,
- (f) support a body of research that includes research relevant at regional, national and international levels and pursue excellence in the conduct of that research,
- (g) support entrepreneurship, enterprise development and innovation in business, enterprise and the professions through teaching and the conduct of research and through effective transfer to those and other sectors of knowledge arising from that research,
- (h) collaborate with business, enterprise, the professions, the community, local interests and related stakeholders in the region in which the campuses of the technological university are located,
- (i) to promote the involvement of those stakeholders in the design and delivery of programmes of education and training,
- (j) support the mobility of staff and students of the technological university into and out of the labour force through collaboration with business, enterprise, the professions and related stakeholders in the region in which the campuses of the technological university are located,
- (k) serve the community and public interest,
- (l) promote access to the technological university and the education it provides, by economically or socially disadvantaged persons, by persons who have a disability and by persons from sections of society in the region in which the campuses of the technological university are located who are significantly under-represented in its student body,
- (m) undertake assessment of students, and award degrees and other qualifications,
- (n) make best use of its expertise and resources, whether or not on a commercial basis, for the purposes of its functions under this Act,
- (o) provide directly, or in collaboration with other providers of programmes of education and training, facilities for all levels of higher education within the Framework, including technological and professional education, and for research,
- (p) collaborate with persons or bodies inside and outside the State for the purpose of its functions under this Act, and
- (q) promote the attainment of gender balance and equality of opportunity among the students and staff of the technological university.

3.4 Role of Chairperson

The Chairperson is responsible for leadership of the Governing Body and ensuring its effectiveness on all aspects of its role. The Chairperson should display high standards of integrity and probity and set expectations regarding culture, values, and behaviours for the Institute and for the tone of discussions at Governing Body level.

Maintaining high standards of governance in all aspects is a vital role of the Chairperson of a Governing Body of a Technological University, given their pivotal role in society and in national economic and social development, as well as their reliance on public as well as private funding.

It is the Chairperson's responsibility to ensure that the Governing Body meets the objectives and complies with the requirements which are set out in the Code of Governance when developed.

The Code of Governance also sets out other specific responsibilities of the Chairperson of a Governing Body. In addition to having responsibility for leadership of the Board and ensuring its effectiveness in all aspects of its functions, the Chairperson is also responsible for –

- Effective management of the Governing Body's agenda,
- Promoting a culture of openness and debate by facilitating the effective contribution of key management and all Governing Body members,
- Ensuring that the Governing Body receive accurate, timely and clear information,
- Advising the Minister of skills requirements on the Governing Body in advance of a time when Governing Body vacancies are due to arise,
- Ensuring that the Governing Body meets its Annual Reporting Requirements.

Please note the following important points:

- Please take care when submitting your expression of interest as the Assessment Panel will generally make its recommendation(s) to the Minister based on consideration of the documentation which you submit. It is therefore most important that you ensure your cover letter (and supporting CV) clearly specifies how your particular background and experience meets the requirements of the Chair and/or an Ordinary Member of the Governing Body as specified in this booklet. This will help ensure that the Assessment Panel is as informed as possible as to the basis and suitability of your candidature.
- You must also confirm that you do not have any conflicts of interest or legal impediment which would be likely to interfere with your ability to play a full part on the Governing Body of Technological University of the Shannon: Midlands Midwest. You must also confirm that you can make yourself available to attend meetings and to carry out the duties of the Chairperson and/or Ordinary Member of the Governing Body.
- The selection process may include a short-listing process dependent on the numbers of applications received.
- In making nominations, and in line with best practice as set out in the Guidelines on Appointments to State Boards, it should be noted that it is open to the Minister to consider suitable nominees other than those identified through this process, provided his preferred nominee meets the specified criteria.
- The Minister shall have regard to the desirability for gender balance on the Governing Body as the Minister considers appropriate and determines from time to time when making appointments.

8. Confidentiality

Subject to the provisions of the Freedom of Information Acts, 2014, applications will be treated in strict confidence. All enquires, applications and all aspects of the proceedings are treated as strictly confidential and are not disclosed to anyone, outside those directly involved in that aspect of the process.

Certain items of information, not specific to any individual, may be extracted from computer records for general statistical purposes.

9. Data Protection

The Department of Further and Higher Education, Research, Innovation and Science is committed to protecting your personal data and takes the security of your information very seriously, adhering to the principles of transparency, accountability and security of the General Data Protection Regulation.

If your application is assessed and you are considered to be suitable for consideration for appointment your curriculum vitae and cover letter (and any supplementary information requested as part of the application process), will be retained for up to one year following the appointments. In the event that you are not successful on this occasion, your data may be retained for a period of up to one year and used in considering your suitability for other similar vacancies/roles that may arise within that period.
